FORMULA:

Adenosine triphosphate...0.20 g.
Benzofosfan.10.00 g.
Excip c.s.p.100 ml.

INDICATIONS: FOSFO - ATP is a compound with phosphorus and adenosine triphosphate, indicated for states of fatigue, exhaustion and loss of energy, clearly observed after training and efforts in sports competitions.

When applied during the training and preparation of animals for racing, jumping and polo, it achieves an excellent performance in competition and avoids the consequences of neuromuscular fatigue.

Indicated for nervous system disorders when they are connected to neuromuscular fatigue.

It can also be applied to mothers before and after delivery, and to stallions to increase the reproductive instinct.

It is ideal to shorten convalescence, after having suffered serious illnesses (infectious or not).

DOSAGE AND METHOD OF ADMINISTRATION:

The product can be administered subcutaneously, intramuscularly or intravenously.

The dose is 10 ml per day, but up to 20 ml at a time can be applied in cases where a more energetic action is desired. It is recommended to carry out the treatment for 5 days and it can be extended up to 15 days without risk.
